The screenshot shows the Khan Academy website interface. At the top, the navigation bar includes 'WATCH', 'PRACTICE', 'COACH', 'VOLUNTEER', and 'ABOUT'. The main content area features a video player for 'Basic Trigonometry' by Khan Academy. The video player shows a right-angled triangle with a hypotenuse of length 5, a vertical side of length 3, and a horizontal side of length 4. The angle between the hypotenuse and the horizontal side is labeled as 45° . Below the triangle, the Pythagorean theorem is written as $a^2 + b^2 = c^2$. To the right of the video player, there is a section titled 'Watch, Practice. Learn almost anything for free.' with a description: 'With a library of over 2,700 videos covering everything from arithmetic to physics, finance, and history and 240 practice exercises, we're on a mission to help you learn what you want, when you want, at your own pace.' Below this text are two buttons: 'Watch a video' (green) and 'Practice with an exercise' (dark blue). There are also social media sharing options for Like (50k), Send, Tweet (4,791), and Cite. At the bottom of the page, there is a 'New & Noteworthy' section with several video thumbnails. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the time as 6:57 PM on 11/24/2011.
